

Final August 04, 2021

Customer Frequently Asked Questions ON Semiconductor dba (doing business as) onsemi

Effective Date

Q: When will the ON Semiconductor name change to onsemi be in effect?

A: The name change is in effect August 5, 2021.
Details regarding the name change can be found here.

Vendor Name

Q: Should my company change our vendor name from ON Semiconductor to onsemi?

A: This is dependent on your ability to receive and pay invoices. All accounts payable and remittance information will remain the same.

Backlog

Q: What happens to our orders currently placed to ON Semiconductor?

A: There are no changes to your orders. All open orders placed to ON Semiconductor will be supported by onsemi.

Electronic Data Interchange (EDI)

Q: Does the name change from ON Semiconductor to onsemi impact the EDI (Electronic data Interchange) process?

A: There is no impact to the current EDI process.

Terms and Conditions

Q: Does the trade name change from ON Semiconductor to onsemi impact any standard terms and conditions that are available from the onsemi.com website?

A: No the trade name change does not impact the standard terms and conditions that are available from the onsemi.com website.

Q: Will customer contractual agreements remain in effect with onsemi?

A: The legal name of companies that enter into contracts with customers is not changing – only the trade name is changing, so there is no impact to any existing contracts.

Part Numbers

Q: Will the ON Semiconductor part numbers change with the name change to onsemi?

A: There are no part number changes as a result of the name change.

Part Marking

Q: What changes will be made the part marking?

A: In general, parts marked with the ON Semiconductor logo will change to the onsemi logo over time
For more information can be located here.

Questions

Q: Who should I contact with questions:

A: Please email Sharon.Brogna@onsemi.com and Nancy.Sutton@onsemi.com